WINNIPEG, June 24.

Serious riots have occurred in Spain. Five deaths from excessive heat are reported from New Orleans. The Calans at Key West, Florida, celebrated the Queen's jubilee. Sir Donald A. Smith has selected the title of Lord of Glenora. The Saskatchewan river is rising rapidly at Prince Albert and Saskatoon. The Cariboo hydraulic mine produced $600 from less than two months work. Appropriation for Rail Postage post office was shovelled out in the House of Commons. Laurier and the other Canadians are being received with great enthusiasm everywhere. The diamond jubilee celebration at London and elsewhere throughout Great Britain and Canada on jubilee day was one grand success. The scene was magnificent. The Royal family attended the opera at night. On the following gentlemen the company-jubilee of the Order of St. Michael and St. George has been conferred: J. M. Courtney, Deputy Minister of Justice, I. Horne McDougal, Auditor General, Laet, Col. White, Deputy Postmaster General and Mr. Prebott of Montreal.

The following official announcement is made in London: Her Majesty has graciously approved of the bestowal of the following honors on Canadians: On Sir Donald A. Smith, K. C. M. G., a peerage; on the Hon. Wilfred Laurier, a membership of the privy council and Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George; on Sir Oliver Mowat, K. C. M. Haggart, Ex-Chief Justice of Ontario, Knighthood.

TO-DAY'S TRAIN.

One car implements for R. K. Stewart. One car implements for Thos. Bellamy. One car merchandise.

LOCAL.

TRAIN left Calgary on time. THE "Northwest" arrived at Fort Pitt at 2.30 this afternoon.

REV. J. DYKE who has been attending the Methodist conference returned on last train.

MONDAY'S train was just 24 hours late, arriving here at about 8.30 on Tuesday evening.

The first consignment of Jubilee postage stamps for this office, arrived on last mail and are being dispensed to-day.

The Masonic lodge here will parade from their hall to the English church on Sunday next, where a special masonic sermon will be given.

No damage whatever was done to the crops in this vicinity by the late heavy rain, though the papers in the South report that crops there have been injured.

The river here has again fallen to its normal state. No actual damage was done to any property, and, thanks to the foresight of the public works department, our bridge was not in any danger.

A MATCHED race for $100 a side was arranged last night between Fitzgerald's "Black Jenny" and G. I. Clark's mare, race to take place within twenty days from yesterday. Agreement for race was signed to-day.

A BAG of new potatoes from the garden of Mr. Roy has been laid on our sanctum table. The size of the potatoes for this time of year is surprising. All are large and some the size of a turkey's egg.

A NEW appliance has been patented by Staff-Sergt. Brook, late of "G" detachment Fort Saskatchewan, which in the event of accident to harness, will prevent the neck from parting company with the tongue of any vehicle.

THE Calgary Herald says that there are three bridges out on the Macleod branch of the C. & E. road besides the traffic bridges over the same streams. Bridges are reported out at Milford and Jumping Pond and the irrigation flames and gates have suffered severely.

THE Hawaiian Islands are shortly to be annexed to the United States and the public debt of the islands will be assumed by the States, providing it does not exceed $4,000,000. All revenue from these islands shall be used solely for the benefit of the inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands for educational and other public purposes.

AN unfortunate accident happened on the track yesterday during the cow-boy race. The conditions required that the riders should round a post at the quarter mile and ride back to starting point. All of the riders but one had turned the post and were starting back when the last rider who had not yet arrived at the post struck them with a terrific crash which could be heard all over the track. Two of the horses were thrown and one of them, owned by Fettes Great, had its leg broken. The riders were, fortunately, not seriously hurt beyond a severe shaking up. The horse's leg was set by Sergt. Sweetapple, and encased in splints and plaster of paris.

ON Thursday evening Calgary was subjected to the greatest disaster from flooding that has occurred since its early days in 1884. Rain had fallen during the preceding week to a depth of 4 or 5 inches but no danger was anticipated until about 10 o'clock on Thursday night, when the waters rose at the northwest part of the city several feet, and had it not been for the exertions of the Fire Brigade and the Mounted Police who turned out to rescue the flooded households, there would have been loss of life. As it is the Bow Marsh bridge is a complete wreck, while the Langford bridge is in a dangerous state. One of the stone piers constructed for the new Elbow steel bridge has been washed away. The westbound express, which arrived in Calgary on Friday morning, has been detained there in consequence of about a mile of track being swept away about two miles west of the city. The bridge over the Bow river at Kananaskis is reported dangerous, and other bridges are expected to need repairs. The Milford traffic bridge has been swept away and the C. & E. line at Nose Creek rendered impassable by a slip in the cut bank.

REV. J. DYKE will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church next Sunday at each service. WHEAT at Stony Plain is out in what is called the shot blade. It will be headed out in about two weeks.

CLYDE THUR and H. Vauhschirk, the victims of the baseball accidents, are not seriously injured and both will be around as usual in a few days.

A. P. DENAON received word by last mail from Frank Oliver, M. P., and Louis Coste, chief engineer of the department of public works, stating that the sample of stone sent down by Mr. Denagon from his quarry up the river had been found suitable for the purpose of bridge building and would therefore be utilized by the government in constructing the bridge here.

A LARGE party of excursionists consisting of members of the late Presbyterian general assembly and their friends paid a flying visit to Edmonton on Tuesday evening. The party is bound for the coast, but owing to the washouts on the G. P. R. was enabled to see the best part of the west. Every eastern province was well represented in the company, and the country will benefit by those who came, saw and were taken captive by the beauties of the place and the hospitality of the people.

Miss ROBINSON was painfully injured through an accident at the grounds yesterday. She was standing near the Methodist church booth which was being taken down, when one of the boards with a nail protruding through it fell from the roof. The nail in the head struck her on the back of the head, tearing her hair open from her temples to the wrist. Medical aid was called in to dress the wound and no serious results are anticipated, though the wound was necessarily extremely painful.

One of the Sturgeon base ball players in the first day's match was the victim of a serious accident. The bat flew from the hands of one of the batters and struck him on the side of the face knocking him completely unconscious and breaking two or three of his teeth. He was taken home and is in a rather dangerous condition. Another player on the same day, who was catching behind the bat, got too far forward and received a blow from the bat on the top of his head which was a decided knockout.

ALEXANDER's band of Indians from the Riviere Qui Barre Agency attracted a large crowd to the locality in which they were holding their tea dance. The wild attire of the Indians, the weird music of their tom-toms and the dancing and dancing in which they accompany their wild eccentric dance, certainly makes a striking scene and one essentially barbarian. This morning the dance was repeated down the front street, the Indians decked in their wildest garb, with heads adorned with bear-skin caps and great bunches of twigs and grass, led by their old chief "Alexander." After treating the public to an open air concert and firing several volleys at the Salvation Army, and receiving numerous donations of the coveted tea; they returned happy to their camp.

A CARD OF THANKS. The management committee of the celebration here desire to thank the members of the North-west Mounted Police for the able and efficient manner in which they performed their special constable duties on the race track during the recent celebration.

EDMONTON'S JUBILEE.

Though for over a week past the rain had poured incessantly converting the streets into a mass of mud and threatening to effectually prevent any parade or other jubilee demonstration, the considerate weather cleared in time to dry the streets and track and the morning of the 22nd was all that anyone could wish. The streets were dry and smooth and the track was in splendid condition.

The celebration started well, wonderfully and unusually well, not only did the big procession, with its police in full dress parade, its bands, its cars, its societies and its thousands of children, line up on time, but it started a few minutes ahead of time on its appointed course to the celebration grounds.

By nine o'clock the bands, societies and school children began to gather at the Alberta corner and at the fire hall, and before 10 o'clock the biggest procession that ever paraded here, started west up Jasper avenue. In the van went "The flag that's braved a thousand years, the battle and the breeze," carried by a mounted policeman on the back of a careering steed, then followed the police band in a gaily decorated bus and the police in full dress parade, after them came the girls from the convent school and the Queen in her coronation robes, followed in the order named, by the boys from St. Joachim's school, in their red sashes and caps, the pupils from the St. Albert mission school—the boys in the uniform of their school and the girls prettily dressed and each one carrying a flag—while the tableaux representing the Queen at the present day, and the St. Albert band followed immediately after. The next attraction in the procession was the car containing Britannia and her colonies, Britannia enthroned in the centre with her colonies in their national dress grouped around, India seated on an elephant occupying a prominent position in the foreground. After this came the pupils from the public schools here and the other schools in the vicinity all gaily dressed and carrying flags. Carriages containing the town council, members of the legislative assembly and executive committee of the jubilee celebration came next and they in turn were followed by the Edmonton band, after the band came the St. Jean Baptiste portion of the procession. The infant saint in a carriage, wrapped in a sheep skin, and followed by a mounted guard of honor in uniform and after him came the St. Jean Baptiste societies of Edmonton, St. Albert, Fort Saskatchewan and Morinville, in the order named, and surrounding the car of the local society. This car was certainly one of the best gotten up features of the procession, representing as it did the boat of the famous Jacques Cartier and containing the explorers impersonator in the dress of his day, and his crew in their sailor garb. After this came the St. Andrew's and St. George societies, last but not least.

Altogether this great procession, over two thousand strong, with its gala day colors, its pageants, its fluttering banners and its bands, formed a pretty and impressive sight and one worthy of the occasion in commemoration of which it was given.

At the track the children were formed in a semi-circle with the bands in the centre and the national anthem was sung after which the children dispersed.

This, with a base ball match in the afternoon between the junior Sturgeon and the junior Edmonton teams, which was won by the home team, and a big bon fire by the St. Andrew's society, and a splendid display of fire works in the evening, ended the first day's programme. The second day was confined to horse racing which started at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

MOUNTED POLICE RACE.

In the evening the programme was concluded by an illuminated bicycle parade, which made a very pretty display, each bicycle being decorated with three or four Chinese lanterns. A pow-wow by Alexander's Indians was also another important part of the evening's programme, with which the best celebration that Edmonton has ever had was brought to a successful termination.

BASE BALL AND FOOT BALL.

Besides the base ball match on the first day another game was played in the afternoon of the second day between the senior teams of the Sturgeon and Edmonton. The game resulted most decidedly in favor of the visiting team by an overwhelming score.

In the forenoon of the second day a very close and interesting game of foot ball was played between Edmonton and Stony Plain, resulting in a draw.

SESSION NOTES.

OTTAWA, June 17, '97.

Business was brisk in the House yesterday. The fast line Atlantic service was discussed in the afternoon, and a vote reached. The proposal was opposed by Messrs. Charlton, McMillan and McDonald, of the liberals, and Mr. Rogers, of the conservatives. The proposal was supported by Casey, Stubbins, and Mr. Foster and Gillies. No explanation was given by the ministry, beyond Sir Richard Cartwright's statement of the previous day, and nothing was shown as to how and to what extent Canada was to benefit financially by the service. Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. Mr. Fielding repudiated the idea advanced by Mr. Charlton that the project was originated by the Imperial government to serve Imperial interests. They said that it originated entirely in Canada, and that it was only after great efforts that the British government was induced to take it up. Mr. Charlton replied that if that was the case the last reason for supporting the proposal had disappeared. A vote was taken on the resolution without amendment, resulting in 135 for an 21 against. All the conservatives except Messrs. Robertson, (Toronto), Wilson (Lennox), and Hale, (Carleton, N. B.), supported the government and the resolution. Eighteen liberals and patriots voted against the government. The obligations entailed by the resolution amount to an estimated capital sum of 15,000,000 dollars, which will practically be added to the debt of the Dominion, or, deducting the amount at present paid for steamship service, a capital sum of $10,000,000. Hon. Mr. Foster opposed the terms of the bargain made by the government, but supported the principle of a fast line, and voted with the government.

The subject of the extension of the Intercolonial from Levis to Montreal was taken up, discussed and voted on at the evening session, which closed about 2 o'clock on Thursday morning. This proposition involves a fixed annual payment of $210,000, besides payment of half the cost of the maintenance of the lines used jointly by the Grand Trunk and the Intercolonial, and the whole of the cost of the maintenance of 130 miles of the Drummond Counties railway, which is a part of the line. It was claimed by Hon. Mr. Blair that the payment would be much more than recouped by increase of business which will be done by the Intercolonial. The bargain was strongly opposed by Messrs. Foster, Haggart, Wallace, Craig and Dupont, of the opposition, and was supported by Mr. Charlton, on the government side, and Mr. Pope, of the opposition, who made one of the most clever speeches of the session in opposition to his leaders. Three principal points of objection was that too high a price was paid for the Drummond Counties railway, and it would appear as if there was some ground for the allegation. This railway was estimated to cost $1,750,000, while the government is to pay what amounts to a capital sum of $2,200,000 for it; at the same time, although the road cost or is to cost when complete $1,750,000, according to Mr. Wallace's figures the company only put $360,000 in cash in it, the balance representing bonuses and the discount on stock and bonds. As he said, it looked as if there was something in it for the "boy." The Hon. Mr. Haggart claimed that by paying the full cost of the Drummond Counties railway and paying a proper price for the use of the Grand Trunk tracks, the total cost of the scheme should not have been more than $2,500,000, whereas the capital cost of the present scheme is about $7,000,000. On the other hand, it was shown by Mr. Charlton that the terms were exactly on the same basis as those made between the Wabash and the Grand Trunk for the use of the latter's tracks from Detroit to Suspension Bridge, and between the C. P. R. and the G. T. R. for the use of the latter's tracks between Toronto and Hamilton, but that the Intercolonial bargain was rather more favorable in detail. He considered that it was a national necessity that the Intercolonial should be extended to Montreal, in case of the bonding privileges over the Grand Trunk to Portland and over the C. P. R. to St. John being abrogated by the action of the United States. A vote was taken on the resolution without amendment, and stood 91 to 47. It was almost a straight party vote; Messrs. Pope, Moore and Poupore, of the opposition, voted for the government, and Messrs. Angers and Monet, liberals voted with the opposition. There was considerable dissatisfaction amongst supporters of the government in regard to both of these questions, from the fact that they had not been consulted in regard to them. The government had decided on a policy, and had come down to the House and demanded the support of their friends, after given only the least possible explanation. This was felt to be particularly objectionable in that it was at a period of the session when full discussion in the House was impossible.

The tariff items were discussed during the greater part of Tuesday, and most of them were passed.

A motion was made by Richardson (Lisgar) to reduce the duties on implements to 10 per cent., seconded by Douglas (East Assiniboia). After a short debate, it was negatived in committee. The question of the valuation of implements was brought up, complaint being made that under the late government agricultural machinery from the United States had been valued at its retail price there, and not the price actually paid by the importers. A charge from this system was demanded, and the Hon. Mr. Paterson said that hereafter the valuation would be upon the wholesale price. If the facts are as stated by importers of machinery, people have been paying an actual duty of 25 per cent., owing to the valuation of binders being raised from $80, which was the wholesale value, to $100, which was the retail value. If the actual wholesale value is now taken it will mean an actual reduction of the duty from 25 to 20 per cent., or a reduction of 20 per cent. from the duty as it was under the late government.

The railway committee had a very exciting meeting on Tuesday, the subject under discussion being the Columbia and Western charter, to extend westward from Robson to Penticton, B. C. This is known as the Heinze scheme, and is said to have the support of the minister of railways. It is a part of the one-time proposed through line from the Crow's Nest Pass to the coast, but is not taken into the Crow's Nest proposition, and therefore is not subject to restrictions of that bargain, while, on the other hand, it does not extend through to the coast, and therefore cuts off the coast cities of British Columbia from and share of its construction. It is looked upon with a great deal of dissatisfaction by a large number of members on both sides of the house, the result being that the committee was counted out before the consideration of the bill was concluded. There are rumors that the cabinet are not at one in regard to this scheme, and there is a general feeling that it is not deserving of the support of parliament under present circumstances. Mr. Heinze has associated with him Mr. Hyman, of London, and Mr. Holt, of the C. & E. construction company; the idea being to pull the scheme through on the good will of political friends, but it seems doubtful if this project will go. The railway committee was called for further consideration of the scheme to-day, the promoters of a rival proposition to extend from Vancouver to Roison having agreed for a consideration to withdraw opposition to the Heinze scheme. But the members boycotted the committee so that there was no quorum, and this scheme was also balked. The queer appearance of the deal is not lessened by the action of the several promoters of the rival schemes.

The House will probably prorogue some time next week, but there is a large amount of important business to be disposed of yet.

COMMUNICATION.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

DEAR SIR.—Some one signing himself "Progress" in your issue of 17th inst. has cast a slur on the Board of Trade by saying, "Are the members of the Board of Trade aware of the town's important situation in connection with the Yukon?"

If your correspondent had taken the trouble to read the annual report of this board which appears in your columns he would have found this statement. "Such a line (a steamboat from Athabasca Landing) would also afford the cheapest mode of entering Canadian Alaska by the Hudson Bay company's Peel river route, where a tramway of only 35 miles over a plateau would connect the navigable waters of Alaska with those of the Mackenzie."

Regarding the all wagon road to Peace river and the Yukon, I prepared a report on the first part of the road, which report was handed to Mr. Oliver to be presented to the Dominion government during this present session.

These statements go to prove not only that this board is fully aware of the situation but is apprising the government of its duties in connection therewith.

If "Progress" will be kind enough to call on me some evening about 7 o'clock or name some convenient time, I shall be most happy to show him the Board of Trade annual report, and perhaps give him more reliable information than he seems to have got from the miner he speaks of.

Yours truly,

G. W. GAIRDNER.

CANADIANS IN BRITAIN.

From the dispatches from England it seems as though our premier, premier, our soldiers and our oarsmen are rivals for popularity, as well as being the colonial lions of the jubilee.

A dispatch dated the 18th says: After the ceremonies at Cambridge yesterday this has been a comparatively quiet day for Hon. W. Laurier and the colonial premiers, who are ready to admit that they stand in great need of a little rest after their provincial rushing and junketings. Tonight they meet the Prince of Wales at the Imperial Institute and at a great reception at the Colonial Institute. Mr. Laurier, referring to the comments on his speeches recently made by members of the Canadian parliament, said to a representative of the press to day: "I stand by my speeches, but I do not wish to be judged by my interviews. I have been interviewed by several papers and have not read the interviews. I have said a hundred times in Canada that protection is a mistake for a country and there cannot be a question as to my views on this subject."

Canada's military contingent is now well settled at the Chelsea barracks. At first they, like the other colonial troops, found much discomfort in the muddings of the officialism that seemed to prevail to a remarkable extent. For instance, though invited here as guests of the British nation, they found no provision made to supply them with food. They had at last, in desperation, to go out and buy their own provisions. This was done in the hope that they would get a refund from the imperial authorities later on. These very ridiculous blunders have excited the strongest condemnation in the press. "You would not treat your own footman thus," says one of the scribes, and in consequence officialism is now mending its ways.

The troops are delighted with the popular acclaim which will be emphasized to-morrow, when they make a preliminary march through the east end.

The Northwest Mounted Police are getting their horses used to the noise of the streets, and the contingent is generally pulling themselves together for next Tuesday's great parade.

The Canadian contingent later in the day marched around the city a distance of about six miles in order to accustom themselves to the route. They were under the command of Gen. Herbert. Field Marshall Roberts was present part of the time. The Canadian lads were well received by the populace. Such remarks as, "Just like the Guards," "Ain't they of splendid physique?" was heard among the crowd, and the uniforms of the Royal Scots and Royal Grenadiers, the Governor General's Guards, and the Mounted Police especially, seemed to tickle the London crowds.

Yesterday many of the soldiers enjoyed themselves at the Ascot races, the Empire, Alhambra and other music halls, which gave them free entry. So also do the exhibitions now running. As to the discomforts referred to, when asked to communicate their grievances to the London press the Canadians replied, "No, we are soldiers, anyway, and we can stand it."

The Canadian oarsmen are pleased with the course. They declare that what the Henleys call rough water is considered glassy water in Winnipeg. To-day the Canadians paddled as far as the island. Trainer Murphy has slightly altered the rig of the Canadian boat, but he says the visitors will row their own Winnipeg stroke and will not attempt to copy English methods. The Canadians, on Monday, will begin taking long spins of six to nine miles daily. The people at Henley are quite impressed with the muscular, clean limbs of the Winnipeg oarsmen, and already declare they are dangerous.

CANADA'S CONTINGENT.

London, June 15.—The Canadian troops reached London shortly before midnight, and were received by Major-General Methven, Sir Donald A. Smith high commissioner, and other officers and officials. General Methven inspected the contingent, and expressed pleasure at the smart appearance made by the men. As they marched from the railway station to the Chelsea barracks they were loudly cheered by large crowds.
